Fashions and Fads

By ELEANOR GRESHAM

As this issue of the Volette rolls off the press in such a spirited manner, it will become another part of a spirited campus, for one can truly say that this year there is a "Tennessee Spirit." Not only is there that extra special "inside" feeling, but there are outward signs; just look around and see

One of the first sights that hits anyone who visits UTMB's rolling campus is the site of the new and modern Administration Building which is soaring toward the sky at an almost unbelievable rate of speed. And "new and modern," "soaring," and, yes, "almost unbelievable" are terms which aptly describe another spirited look being introduced by the coeds of UTMB you guessed it! The leotards and "shocking" stockings—occasionally referred to as "crazy legs"—Quite wicked are those selected by Harriette Lavenue and Thomasene Miles in back, but the red ones chosen by Wanda Dodson, Nancy Lawson, Miss Creekmore, and Patty Jo Alexander are more aptly described as "shocking." Believe me, you have to have spirit plus to don a pair of these, but you'll also be in the spirit of fashion.

"Air raid, Frosh!" Now that's a cry that shows somebody has spirit, even if it is only an upper classman. But those frosh have it on the upperclassmen, for this year they are revolutionizing the green beanie business with the "new look" in beanies—bright green with orange "T" and an orange button right on top. It has been heard that some of the fellows can hardly wait until initiation is over to wear hats like Kenneth Houston and Melvin Humphreys have been sporting; in plaid with a high crown and a cord for a band, they make one feel like a Swiss yodeler is passing by—real gone.

Another new look in beanies is the bright orange bow ribbon which all freshmen women wear perched on the right side of their beanies. It looks like they got together and agreed on the whole deal, but that's one idea they'll never claim. There is one group on campus who does agree, and that's the "slim jim" crowd who seem to prefer black in the long slender slacks in fabrics from corduroy to wool. Sandra Roush, Carol Lea, Glenda Templeton, and Judy Johnson are only a few seen about campus in back, but Nancy Green's light blue corduroy selection shows that other colors are equally as attractive.

Attractive and attracting are descriptions of another definite sign of UTMB spirit—the "new" organizations such as the Literary Club. Long in planning and organizing, they are now emerging as new life on the campus, and Lorraine Fields and Carol Boxendale seem to be doing some of the same as they show off their blouses in paiseley prints—an old design emerging with new life in today's fashions. Lorraine's selection in red, green, and gold print is in a blousy style with elastic around the bottom creating the effect, and it features a convertible collar and the popular roll-up sleeves; whereas Carol's is in a more classic shirt style with three-quarter length sleeves, shirt collar, shirt-tail hem and coin-like buttons marching down the front in green and white print. A matching belt is a bonus addition with Carol's blouse, and it might be mentioned that blouses are one of the "things" this year.

And one way of letting everyone know just what the "things" on campus are is the same old method, but with much greater enthusiasm and force is signs. Seen this year are big signs, little signs, colored signs, printed signs; yes, any visitors on campus know at a glance that there's spirit about something—elections, pep rallies, retreats, parties, etc. In fact there are almost as many signs as there are men's shirts, and that's saying a lot. However, from the vast multitude of plaids, checks, solids, stripes and prints, there seems to be one popular number—plaid with blue predominating. Black and blue combination in ivy league style is the selection of Lee Wood Jones and Charles Pyron; while Joe Loggins, Steve Peal and Jimmy Hicks select gray to blend with the blues of their shirts. Dennis Bellamy selected brown and blue for his plaid long-sleeved shirt and combined brown trousers with it, making a really "sharp" outfit, which seemed to catch the eyes of some of the misses around the women's residence hall the other day—you guessed it; there's still lots of signs of spirit there, too, that is, besides a spirit of fashions!

But it does appear that the spirit of fashion has taken over as far as uniforms go at UTMB this year—resulting not only in a snappy looking football squad, but newly attired cheerleaders as well. The new football uniforms are solid white with bright orange number and a vertical stripe down the trouser legs and horizontal bands around the arms. And the job is done up right with matching helmets in white with an orange stripe around the center. Another matching job is done up right by many of the UTMB coeds in their selections of co-ordinated shirt and sweater sets. Among the more "juicy-looking" are those worn by Cynthia McIlwain and Barbara Caldwell. Pale aqua blue is selected by Cynthia for a slim skirt with kick pleat and a matching fur-blend sweater with push-up sleeves in a cardigan style featuring a woven-in diamond shape design along the center front, and it's all topped off with a tiny collar. A cardigan in a chemise style is Barbara's selection in emerald green wool with a novelty opening and long raglan sleeves. Her full-fashioned sweater is mated with a slim skirt distinguished by novelty darts and a mock-fashioned pleat in center front. Both mix-and-match in solids and blend-to-match in solids and plaids are among fash favorites this fall.

Not only matching all the way, but new all the way are the new cheerleader uniforms. New white wool long-sleeved v-neck sweaters, accented by a white "T" and megaphone outlined in orange, are mated with 16-gauge white corduroy skirts interlined with white cotton and lined with orange cotton; orange tights and white buck oxfords complete the outfit. Although the cheerleaders have only one change, Nancy Bunch does things up in her selection of co-ordinates in the latest chemise fashions by choosing two skirt and jacket outfits. The sets both feature slim skirts and boxy style sleeveless jackets with a bias band around the bottom and a smart row of buttons down the front. With one in a black, charcoal, red and white vertical stripe combination and the other with a brown, gold, and rust plaid skirt topped by a gold and rust herringbone

Homecoming Parade And Float Contest Rules Announced

The annual Homecoming Parade will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Featured will be decorated cars, floats, bands, and marching units. The parade will follow a route which will take it through the business district and parts of the residential section. The parade route is shown in this issue of the Volette in a diagram prepared by Miss Van Denburg.

Participating in the parade will be four bands, UTMB's own ROTC band along with those from Martin High, Grove High of Paris and Union City High.

As this paper goes to press the challenges usually offered by the four classes to compete in number of cars in the parade has not been made; however, this year the classes will be competing for a first prize of $25 for an original float entered in the parade.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. The contest is open to any UTMB student who has a car, can borrow a car, or has friends wishing car decoration assistance.

2. CARS MAY BE ENTERED IN CONTEST UNDER INDIVIDUAL NAME but may have as many assistants as deemed necessary.

3. Decorations theme must center around homecoming of old grads or of the football game between UTMB and the College of the Ozarks, Clarksville, Arkansas.

4. JUDGES WILL BASE THEIR DECISION UPON ORIGINALITY OF IDEAS AND THE MANNER IN WHICH THE IDEA IS CARRIED OUT. Cars decorated with crepe paper streamers only will be ineligible for contest awards.

5. Three prizes will be awarded: First prize, $15.00; Second prize, $7.50; Third prize, $5.00.

Cars will be registered as they line up on the day of parade. Contest winners will be announced at half point time in UTMB vs. College of the Ozarks game. Contest judges will view the parade from a central point downtown.

6. Decorated cars will be lined up on Lovelace Street from Reed Hall back in direction of the Book Store. Cars should begin assembling at this point at 2:00 noon in order that the parade may start promptly at 1:00 o'clock. Parade officials will be on hand to number cars as an aid to the judges decision downtown.

7. Helpful information concerning car decoration: College of the Ozarks—colors—purple and gold; Team name: Mountaineers.

8. It is not the wish of the Homecoming Committee to foster the idea of expensive car decorations but rather the originality and cleverness of the individual cars. Hendrix College elepen Saturday.

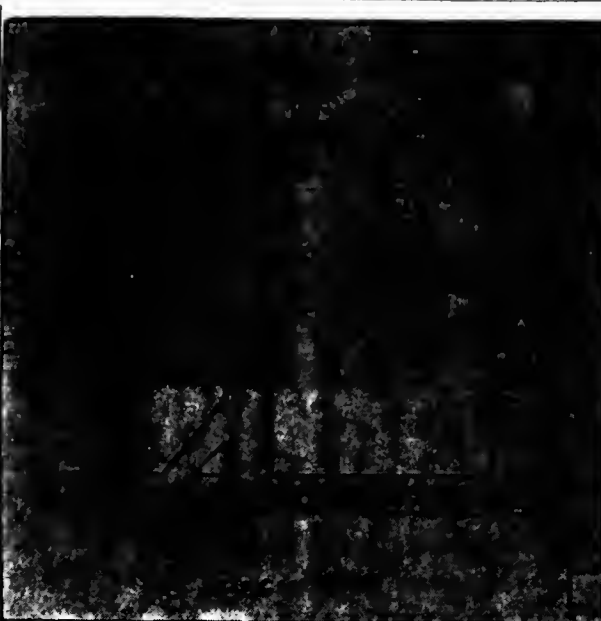

1. The float competition will consist of representative entries of the four classes, freshman, sophomore, junior and senior.

2. Decorated cars will be lined up on Lovelace Street from Reed Hall back in direction of the Book Store. Cars should begin assembling at this point at 2:00 noon in order that the parade may start promptly at 1:00 o'clock. Parade officials will be on hand to number cars as an aid to the judges decision downtown.

And it's easy to have spirit with a winning team like UTMB boasts this year. It's a sure sign of spirit when a team has a straight winning record, no doubt about it! And ready to yell and whoop it up at any game are Phyllis Ford and Mary Alice Bell in their car coats, which are again favorites with the co-eds. Phyllis chose blue to match her eyes for her coat in poplin, lined and trimmed with corduroy. The band on the deep pockets is in corduroy and the novel shaped collar which doubles as a hood is off like fabric; allver hooks accent the front. Corduroy in a big wide wale in olive green is favored by Mary Alice with the wales running vertically in the coat proper and horizontally in the band down the front, the tabs extending toward the back from the sides and the tabs finishing the sleeves. Also with collar doubling as a hood, Mary Alice's coat is lined in its entirety with soft alpaca. With lots of spirit and a warm coat, Mary Alice should never miss an event.

And it seems that's just what so many people on campus are doing—not missing a thing. Probably the greatest sign of spirit are crowds of people everywhere—at the Wagon Wheel, in the cafeteria line, at church, at all athletic and socials. It's really fabulous, and also fabulous is the way crew-neck sweaters in the relaxed look have taken over. Perhaps the most popular is gray in varying shades, and there are "crowds" of them worn by those as: Sammy Ingram, Charlotte Taylor, Joyce Vineyard, Carolyn Prince, Carolyn McCorkle, Marie Wilson, Jeanne Worley. These long-sleeved bulky affairs are by no means limited to gray, for Phyllis Boggan and Johnnie Alexander are eye-catching sights in their red crew-necks; nor are they limited to co-eds, for Larry Barber, Joel Parker, Jimmy Stanford, Billy Webb, and Cotton Ray are representative of the fellows on campus sporting crew-necks in various colors and weaves.

There's no denying it—UTMB has spirit; "it's in the air, it's everywhere," and here's hoping you'll have lots of the latest Fashions and Fads to keep your spirit up!

2. The decoration theme must emphasize either the homecoming of old grads or the football game between UTMB and the College of the Ozarks from Clarksville, Ark.

3. All float entries must conform to one of the following classifications of construction: (a) Self propelled vehicles—1. Any truck above one ton. (b) Pulled vehicles—1. Any non-powered vehicle 12 feet in length or over six feet wide or over.

4. Recognition of float sponsor should be of secondary importance with the major theme of homecoming taking precedence.

5. Judging criteria will be based on originality of theme and manner in which it is carried out.

6. Each class shall be given a working fund of $10.

7. A first prize of $25. will be awarded the float winner.

8. All floats must be registered with Mr. Culvahouse (Room 127 ABL) on or before Wednesday, Oct. 8.

1. Judges will be located in front of the Martin Bsnk. The class float winner will be announced at the half-time ceremonies.

2. Floats will be an integral part of the Homecoming Parade and will be lined up with the decorated cars on Lovelace Street from St. Charles intersection south in the direction of the Ivy House.

3. Colors of the College of the Ozarks are Purple and Gold. The team name—Mountaineers.

4. Floats need not be expensive; decorated as originality of theme is the objective of the Homecoming Committee.

Freshman Flag Gets Usual Treatment

The disturbance on the UTMB campus on Wednesday night, Sept. 24, was not an earthquake. It was the traditional clash between the spirited freshmen boys and the upperclassmen.

The event took place at the flag pole in front of the new Administration Building. As the upperclassmen strove to remove the freshmen's green flag, which had been tied at the top of a well-lubricated flag pole, the freshmen attempted to stop them.

With about 150 boys on the scene the event turned into a good-natured sort of riot which pictured boys rolling, scuffling, and wrestling in every direction over the campus.

The contest was stopped by Mr. H. B. Smith, student personnel officer after thirty minutes of spirited fun. However, as the sun peeped over the horizon Thursday morning, the flag pole again was seen to be bare.

Mr. Chenette Resigns As Volette Sponsor

Mr. Ed Chenette, associate professor of English, has announced his resignation as sponsor of THE VOLETTE. Concerning Mr. Chenette's untiring work on the school paper, Dean Meek had the following statement to make:

"It seems to me that Ed Chenette has made an ideal faculty sponsor of our school paper throughout the years of his sponsorship. It has been my observation that he has been very close to the students and their points of view endeavoring to make the VOLETTE truly a student newspaper. Mr. Chenette has also been properly concerned with certain overall responsibilities to staff and administration. He therefore embodies the wonderful characteristic of being true and fair to all concerned."

Dean Meek went on to say that "the institution is indebted to Mr. Chenette for his many services beyond the call of duty. Since he requested relief from this assignment, the administration could do none other than acquiesce with our full sense of appreciation."

Home Ec Teachers Attend Meetings

Sixty-Two Schools Send Yell Leaders To UTMB Clinic

The UTMB Physical Education Department sponsored a Cheerleader Clinic in the gym Thursday, Sept. 25. The host and hostesses were the UTMB Cheerleaders, and the leader of the clinic was Lawrence R. Herkimer.

A total of 405 students and sponsors representing 62 schools and colleges of Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri were present for the clinic. They represented an unusually eye-catching and lively scene attired in their brightly-colored cheerleader costumes. Their response to the enthusiasm of Mr. Herkimer was seemingly unanimous.

Mr. Herkimer is the executive secretary of the National Cheerleaders Association. He has trained over 80,000 high school and college yell leaders during the past nine years. His special courses for cheerleaders have been conducted in leading high schools and colleges in thirty-eight states. A former Southwest AAU tumbling champion, he was yell leader at North Dallas High School for three years, Southern Methodist University for three years and the University of Illinois for one year.

The program began at 9:30 A.M. with a welcome speech made by Dean Paul Meek. During the remainder of the morning Mr. Herkimer presided. He discussed cheerleading techniques and also taught his receptive audience several yells. The morning part of the program ended with yell demonstrations given by the various schools. The afternoon session began with another discussion on cheerleading techniques. The group was especially enthusiastic over a cheering routine done to the record "Lollipop." At 4 p.m. the group was dismissed. Many students remained after the dismissal to continue work on their techniques and yells.

UTMB Alumni Make Homecoming Plans

By NELL WILLIAMS

The annual meeting of the UTMB Alumni Association will be held in ABL 200 on October 18 at 10 A. M. Anyone who has ever completed as much as one quarter at Knoxville, Martin, or Memphis is an alumnus and will be welcome to attend the Alumni Activities.

At 9 o'clock the executive committee will meet in ABL 128 to make last minute plans for the meeting. While the other functioning committees are meeting in other rooms in ABL to prepare for the general meeting at 10 o'clock.

Since the president of UTMB alumni, James Workman of Union City will be in Knoxville representing UTMB alumni on the General U-T Alumni Council, James D. Harris of Trenton, first vice-president, will preside.

Professor Lloyd King, chairman of the Athletic Committee, has confirmed that football tickets for the Homecoming Game will be given to the "Old Grads" who attend the meeting.

Following the Alumni meeting the group will go up town to view the parade and return for the football game in the afternoon.

Climaxing Alumni Day will be the banquet at 6 p.m. at the Gateway Restaurant.

Evidence is accumulating to indicate that a large percentage of the graduates will be back for Homecoming.

Boost the Vols

Vols Beat Tech In Spite Of Fumbles

The Vols rolled over Tennessee Tech Oct. 3 by a score of 20 to 0, after a slow start. They almost reached pay dirt in the first period, but the drive ended with a fumble on the Tech 20 yard line. Two other fumbles were covered by Tech in the first quarter.

The second quarter started with a bang as the Vols, with the fine running of Fowler and Ercolin, moved to the three-yard line only to lose the ball on downs. Late in the period UTMB took over on their own 15 yard line. Fowler drove for 9 yards, but before Bayless connected with end Charlie Davis on a 55-yard pass which was followed by another pass to Thompson for 15 yards. With the ball resting on the six, Monte Bayless ran wide around his right end for the tally. The conversion was not good, but the Vols led by six.

The third quarter was uneventful compared to the second. The Vols fumbled late in the period on their own 25, but regained possession early in the fourth period as the result of a Tech fumble on the UTMB 20.

Not being able to make a first down, the Vols kicked to the Tech 35 where the safety muffed the kick. The ball rolled back up the field to the 45 where it was covered by Gene Hicks. Tech proceeded to intercept a pass on the Vol 7, but couldn't make a first down and had to kick. The Vols scored in only five plays from the 23 where they took the ball. Fowler did the honors from the three and Gary Dines made good the conversion. The score, 13-0.

The Vols' next chance came when a punt was returned to the 30, but a 15-yard penalty gave them the ball first and 25 on the 15. Fowler ran 23 of the 25 yards and with the help of Marler and Deverell carried the ball to the 49. Again Fowler got the running fever and this time he went the route on a 51-yard run. Dines made the conversion and UTMB led 20 to 0, which was the final score.

The defensive standouts were Hicks, Williams, Lynch, Thompson, and Long.

Fowler led the rushing with 182 yards of the 322 the Vols gained. He was followed by Ercolin and Marler with 78 and 55 yards, respectively.

Charlie Davis took the pass-catching honors with a 50-yard Bayless pass.

The Vols rolled for 18 first downs to the two made by Tennessee Tech, and piled up 322 yards rushing to Tech's 73.

Captain Of The Week Selected By Coaches

A new method of selecting the football captain has been put into use at UTMB this year.

In the years past the football captain and co-captain were elected by the team members at a date preceding the first game. Now it is done just before the team leaves the dressing room. Coaches Carroll and Penny select a "Captain of the Week" to represent the team, and at the close of the season, the team members will select the 1958 football captain.

This method is being used to stimulate the development of leadership and handling of responsibility and to add a note of suspense to the game.

Selected so far have been Charles Youngerman of Lexington, Jimmy Hicks of Waverly.

Three New Members Added To 1958-59 Cheering Squad

The election of three new additions to the UTMB Vols cheering squad was the first event of a series planned for the first week-end of the quarter. The scene was the gaily decorated gymnasium, bright with orange and white crepe paper, spirit flags, and symbols typical of football season as well as the Tennessee Spirit.

The favored three of a group of fifteen try-outs were Nancy Hurst of Selmer, Belinda Taylor of Paris, and John E. Ward of Humboldt.

Miss Hurst, a sophomore in Home Economics and a resident of the women's dorm, was an active participant in campus events last year. She is currently ASC representative of the Home Economics Club and a member of Westminster Fellowship Presbyterian Group. She was recently elected secretary of the sophomore class.

A freshman in Business Administration and also a resident of the Women's Dorm, Miss Taylor was a 3-year cheerleader at Grove High and editor of the annual.

Ward, a sophomore in pre-med and a member of Kappa Beta, men's residence hall, is also active in campus activities.

Immediately after their election the three joined the returning members of the squad—Carolyn McCorkle, Judy Johnson, Margie Vowell, and Eleanor Gresham—in leading the spirited crowd in a pep rally, which also included the presentation of Coach Carroll and Penny, who in turn presented the members of the 1958-59 football squad.

The climax of the night was a dance sponsored by the cheerleaders, which was evidently a success, for the floor was constantly crowded with students from "fresh" to seniors getting in the swing of things.

The excitement of the cheerleader election evolved into real school spirit which was certainly evident at the UTMB-Georgetown football game on Saturday night, September 20 at 8 p.m. Although the motorcade which was scheduled for 4 o'clock was postponed and the attendance was affected by the all-day rain, the Vol rooters rang loud and clear through the crisp night displaying enthusiasm and spirit even greater than in years past. And it seems it was all for the best, for the Volunteers were victors of their first game of the season.

It was a thrilled and proud crowd that attended the victory dance in the gym that night—the last event of a week-end planned to boost school spirit and a greater interest in UTMB sports. One dares not miss the next one.

Veterans Club Elects

The Veterans' Club met Wednesday night, Oct. 1, to elect new officers for the fall quarter. Those elected were: Phobus Williamson, president; Gene Burden, vice-president; Eddie Thomas, secretary; Joe Hutcheson, treasurer; W. C. Penn, ASC representative; Gene Hughes, sergeant-at-arms; and Mr. Baxter Fisher, sponsor.

Other business discussed included plans for the club social to be held Nov. 22. Plans were not completed, but it is expected to be one of the major socials of the season.

Intramurals Offer Team Competition

The major purpose of the women's intramural program on the UTMB campus is to provide an opportunity for every student to participate in individual and team games of her choice. During the school year the Physical Education Department tries to choose those activities which will provide enjoyment for the student.

Each student will be appointed to one of the eight color teams. As long as she is a student at UTMB she will remain a member of that team.

The point system used in intramurals. For each team or individual sport the winner receives 2 points while the loser receives one. At the end of the year the sophomore and senior girl having the most points for two years receives a trophy. The top five scorers for two years will receive a letter. Some of the high scoring sophomore girls who are returning are Nita Whitfield, Betty Huffman, Melba Whitesides, Wanda Dodson, Cynthia McIlwain, Harriett Gibbs, and Mary Ida Warren. Some of the high scoring senior girls are Eleanor Gresham, and Faye Hunt.

The men and women color teams work together. At the end of the year the points are added, and the team with the highest number of points wins the title for that year. Intramurals give the student an opportunity to engage in wholesome games with a bit of competition added. In the near future students will be assigned to one of the color teams. When one is notified which team he is on, he is expected to try to support that team in all activities.

BASKETBALL TEAM WORKS IN SHIFTS

The 1958-1959 Vol cagers began their drills Oct. 4 in preparation for the coming season. Practice sessions have been conducted with the players working in shifts and alternating in and out of doors.

This year's team will include several men returning from last year's Vols as well as several transfers and freshmen.

Meet The Vols Each Week Under Glass At Adm. Building

In an effort to stimulate more spirit and interest in UTMB athletics, the bulletin board at the foot of the Administration Building stairs has been selected as the spot where students, faculty, and visitors can "meet the Vols."

Each week a series of five players of the seasonal sport are presented, featuring a 5x7 photograph and information concerning their sports backgrounds. It is hoped that by becoming acquainted with the members of the football, basketball, tennis, and baseball teams, the students will have a personal interest in the teams.

Members of the football team so far presented have been: "Captain of the Week" Charles Youngerman of Lexington; Bobby Fowler of Ridgely; Tommy Marler of Atlanta, Georgia; Dennis Meeks of Tracy City; Don Williams of Caryville; "Captain of the Week," Jimmy Hicks of Waverly; James Graves of Trenton; Jack Short of Casey, Illinois; Wayne Forehand of Nashville; Buddy Long of St. Simons Island, Georgia.

Who will be the next Vols you'll meet? Drop by the Administration Building and take a peek!

U-T Band Brings Luck To Vol Teams

The University of Tennessee Pride of the Southland Band from Knoxville was enthusiastically received at a pre-game performance on the UTMB football field Friday night, Oct. 3, when the Martin Branch Vols met the Tennessee Tech 'B's' from Cookeville.

The band was enroute to Memphis to appear at the Mississippi State-Tennessee game at Crump Stadium on Saturday. Members of the group spent Friday night on UTMB campus.

The band proved to be a good omen to both Vol teams. UTMB beat Tennessee Tech 20-0, and the Tennessee Vols upset Mississippi State 13 to 8.

Vols Make It Two In A Row Against Arkansas State

The UTMB Vols made it two in a row as they downed the Arkansas State Bears at Conway Sept. 27. The game was primarily a defensive one as the 7 to 6 score indicates.

Starting the second half with a six-point deficiency, the Vols continued to hold the Bears with their tight defense. With one minute left in the third quarter, Dennis Meeks plucked a stray pass from the air that was on the rebound from the shoulder of an opposing end. He crossed the goal line with the help of good blocking along the sidelines. Gary Dines, a freshman, made the conversion, putting the Vols ahead by one point.

The Bears scored their touchdown first as a result of a 73-yard mch spearheaded by a 26 yard pass play from Coah to Riggs, an end. The scoring play was run by Coah.

Late in the game a Bear back broke away and could have been considered gone as there were four of his blockers to take out the lone Vol between him and the goal. It must have been the Tennessee spirit that helped as the back fumbled, thus ending the threat.

The offensive attack was led by Dennis Meeks and Bobby Fowler. They gained 55 and 44 ynrds respectively.

Vols Lick Georgetown

Georgetown gave the Vols little trouble, compared to Arkansas, in the opener Sept. 20. The Vols ran only five plays in the first period with the fifth being a 70 yard run by Bobby Fowler. The conversion was missed, and the Vols emerged from the initial period six points in front. The final score was 33 to 7 with the Vols the winner.

Massie scored the only tally for Georgetown. It came in the second quarter on a drive that started on their own 31. After making a first down on the one it took four plays to break the Vol defense for the score. The point after touchdown was good and Georgetown led by one point.

The Vols took the wind out of Georgetown's sails as they scored on the kick-off on a beautifully executed play covering 95 yards. Marler took the kick on the 5 and carried it to about the 25 where he and Meeks crossed with Meeks taking the ball. The whole Georgetown defense followed Marler leaving Meeks with a clear field down the other side. Again the conversion was missed, and the score was 12 to 7 and from this point it was the Vols all the way.

Other scores were made by Thompson, Lane, and Bayless. Thompson made his touchdown on a 15-yard pass from Lane. Lane scored on an attempted pass from the 15 yard line that turned into a running play. The final score of the game was made by Monte Bayless from 25 yards out. He started down the right side three out back across to the left side of the field and crossed the goal line just inches from going out of bounds.

Georgetown made two points on a safety in the fourth period compared to the five tallies and one extra point amassed by the Vols on the rain-soaked field.

Bobby Fowler led the Vols in rushing with 123 yards. Lane was second with 39.

Mixer Is Success Despite Handicap

The annual freshman mixer given by the student body for the benefit of the freshman class was declared a success despite the fact it was moved to the gym at the last minute.

The mixer, scheduled for 7 p.m. September 16 on the football field was moved at the last minute when unscheduled rain hit the campus. The mixer accomplished its purpose of allowing the freshmen to become acquainted with each other.

ASC President, Kenneth Houston, greeted the new students, and turned the program over to the co-sponsors, Mary Elizabeth Grabel and Melvin Humphreys. The program was opened with several ice-breakers, including a right hand shake and a color cards mixer. The second part of the program was highlighted by a feeding and shaving contest and a scavenger hunt.

One of the prizes for the winning team in these contests was the right to be served their refreshments first. These consisted of cold drinks (moved in from the football field in a pouring rain) and cookies.

After the refreshments had been served, Melvin introduced one of the surprises of the mixer, the Tennessee Valley Playboys from Paris, who played for a period of social dancing.
